Trusted By Companies & Partners

Consumer tech, global retail, and partner ecosystems where I've led execution at scale.

About

I build and lead high-performance teams that deliver complex consumer products and platform programs on schedule, at quality, and within budget. My experience spans consumer device execution (Alexa multimodal hardware), operational readiness at scale (Flipkart), and cross-functional program leadership across engineering, operations, product, compliance, and external partners in the US and Asia.

I unify program cadence with operational delivery  aligning core teams, surfacing risk early, and driving measurable outcomes from exploration through general availability.

"Single point of accountability for cross-functional delivery  building the team, setting the cadence, and shipping products customers can rely on."
